Harold Winch Fires Opening Gun For C.C.F. In Pass Political Campaign

Makes Strong Attack Against Capitalism; C.C.F. Aim is to Give "Alberta For the People of Alberta," Griffin and Taylor Also Speak.

Harold Winch, youthful leader of the C.C.F. party in British Columbia, fired the opening gun for the C.C.F. party in the Pass towns on Sunday when he addressed a meeting at Blainmore in the afternoon and at night in the Community hall in Coleman. Despite the hot sultry evening a fair attendance was present at the Coleman meeting. Wm. White was chairman.

The first speaker was Jack Griffin, of Macleod and C.C.F. organizer for southern Alberta. Mr. Griffin described C.C.F. as a young, vigorous and strong movement that was spreading throughout the Dominion. Three reasons he gave for this; Firstly, C.C.F. recognizes the value of the people; secondly, C.C.F. is in tune with The Times and thirdly, C.C.F. to Take Power.

Rev. Roy C. Taylor was the second speaker. He remarked he had been in the army almost three years. He had been progressively minded since 1911. It was his belief that the C.C.F. would be a federal power in the near future.

He had conversed with members of the various branches of the armed forces and found them strongly in favor of the C.C.F. He estimated 75% of the armed services in support of the C.C.F. Referring to his relationship with Social Credit he stated that Social Credit did not go far enough. The Social Credit government would not find a way to allow the franchise to be given to the armed forces outside the province and it was his opinion that the government would lose many votes due to this.

The main speaker Harold Winch thanked the Alberta C.C.F. party for its invitation to take part in the Alberta election. He welcomed meetings of this kind as it was a means of discussing with the people their common problems.

He opened his address by touching on the fact that none of us have any say in the matter as to whether or not we want to be born into this world. That, he stated, was decision, of the parents who in turn were guided by the amount of money they had available to raise a family. The youth when ready for school again had no control over his education. The educational system as far as the youth was concerned was guided by the social and financial standing of his parents, not upon his ability or desire.

He then made strong attacks on the capitalist system. There was slow starvation if no jobs available. He touched upon the depression in the spring and summer of 1914 followed in the fall by a capitalistic war. The soldier had gone to war to win freedom and democracy. In the depression of 1929-39 the heroes were no longer wanted, no longer needed. He described the travels of the "bums" from one end of the Dominion to the other in search of work because the fact that Canada was the richest country in the world, British Columbia had timber, fruit, etc. Alberta had wheat, coal etc. yet under the capitalist system nothing was produced but the unemployed could not pay for them.

He mentioned the R. B. Bennett relief camps, the 5,000 unemployed sitting around the camp at Vancouver surrounded by police and J. I. McGee reading the riot act and the unemployed who took over the Vancouver post-office in an effort to get the governments to do something in their behalf.

During his eleven years in the B.C. legislature he had found that Freedom of Democracy was a downright and forthright force—the government called the tune. Yet government in its full sense was the greatest instrument that can be used by man for progress.

The form of government does not change as it is governed by the B.N.A. act what the citizens of Alberta had to decide was "What economic system they wished to live under—capitalism or socialism." The C.C.F. stands for the eradication of capitalism and the establishment of socialism. Social Credit, Independents and L.P.P. stood for capitalism.

Fascism he described as a product of capitalism. It built up Hitler and Mussolini. The C.C.F. had endeavored to stop shipments of war materials from going to the A.C.F.

The C.C.F. had faith and confidence in Canadians and Canada with her abundance of national resources. Capitalism can't solve the problem of Distribution. The soldiers were fighting for a military victory it was up to those on the home front to fight for economic security for those in the armed forces and themselves. The objective of the C.C.F. in Alberta was "Alberta for the people of Alberta who do the work for Alberta."

Provincial victories are only a step towards Socialism in Canada, stated Mr. Winch.

Rev. Irwin followed Mr. Winch, and distributed a number of pledge forms in an effort to secure funds for the C.C.F. political campaigns. He started asking for $5 but no one raised their hands to volunteer such amounts. He finally asked for the collection of the forms. A few were seen to write small sums towards the C.C.F. funds.

A question period followed several questions being asked by supporters of the Labor-Progressive party.

Rev. William Irwin Is Choice of C.C.F. In Crows Nest-Pincher Creek

Cowley. — Rev. Wm. Irwin, of Bellevue, was the unanimous choice of the nominating convention of the C.C.F. party held here Monday afternoon.

Delegates from all parts of the riding were present and the choice was unanimous.

Harold Winch, leader of the CCF in British Columbia, gave a short address at the request of the committee, reserving his speech for the meeting in Pincher Creek in the evening.

Time of the convention was taken up in organizing the constituency and with the nomination. Mr. Winch, in his short address, outlined the platform of his party as it would affect industry and labor, the farmer and his problems and social legislation that would benefit all of the people.

Mr. Irwin has long been active in the CCF movement. He is United church minister at Bellevue and was formerly minister at Taber and at First United church, Lethbridge.

PROMOTED

Jerry McIntyre son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McIntyre, has been promoted to the rank of staff sergeant at the military hospital at Camrose.

CHARLES EMMERSON, OF BELLEVUE, PASSED AWAY ON THURSDAY

The death occurred at a Calgary hospital on Thursday last of Charles Emmerson, Pass old timer.

Mr. Emmerson had been resident of Bellevue for many years, where he conducted a general hardware business successfully. He was actively connected with society, church and community organizations, and was much beloved and highly respected by all.

He is survived by his wife, one son and one daughter; also one daughter, Joseph Emmerson, of Coleman.

Funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 from the late residence at Bellevue.

ATTEND EMMERSON FUNERAL

Representatives of the Minerva Chapter, O. E. S., attending the Charles Emmerson funeral on Sunday afternoon included Mrs. J. Jackson, Mrs. R. Morris, Mrs. S. G. Bannan, Mrs. W. H. Garner and Mrs. M. Rees.

E. O. Duke Social Credit Nominee In Crows Nest-Pincher Creek

Lundbreck—About 85 persons attended the nominating convention of Social Credit Pincher Creek-Crows' Nest constituency which was held in the Lundbreck hall on July 22. Fred Antrobus was chairman for the evening. Ernie Fisher, Bellevue, acted as secretary, and E. O. Duke, sitting member, was the unanimous choice of the convention.

J. Dudley is returning officer for this riding.

After his nomination Mr. Duke addressed the gathering. He thanked the people for the honor in again choosing him as the candidate for the coming election and traced Social Credit from the time of its inception till the present day. He spoke of opposition by the Dominion government to acts passed by the Alberta government. He also said Social Credit would not be a

POPULAR WINDOW

During the past week the White Lunch Cafe has had probably the most interesting window on main street, Mr. Fiedler had a concrete platform built near the window some time ago and last week decorated the platform with rocks and moss. The platform also has a glass floor. Once the rocks and moss had been set in place he had a pipeline run into the platform and water poured into it in a steady trickle. A number of minnows were then released and they were to be seen swimming the whole day long, much to the enjoyment of many children who gaze in awe at the tiny fish.

Mr. Fiedler also has a tiny cave built in and in which a light will shortly be installed. He plans on having various colored lights to give the fish display more effect.

When we talk for effect, we are more effective.

To get a job done better, a change of heart will often do more than a change of hands.

complete success till they had a majority in Ottawa and said Mackenzie King was a servant to finance and R.R. Bennett was also one and their hands were tied by the moneyed men and bankers. R. B. Bennett was sent to the Old Country to keep him from being stripped bare, he said. He asked the support of every man and woman in the riding to help him win the election. They were now fighting the same battle as in 1935 and he could not win without the help support and advice of his followers. His concluding words were "Mr. Aberhart lies in a martyr's grave."

Some discussion was entered into regarding the Bank Act. J. Dudley, Hilcrest, proposed that they write the Dominion government urging it to refuse renewal of the bank charters.

Mrs. Mary Rajman Victim of Drowning Accide't

Accident Occurred on Sunday Afternoon; Thought to Have Taken a Fainting Spell.

A tragic accident occurred at Willow Drive on Sunday afternoon at approximately 3:30 when Mrs. Mary Rajman (Rayman) 62, fell into about four and a half feet of water and was drowned. It was only on Thursday last week that the aged lady had been given medical examination and the attending physician at the scene of the accident was of the opinion that she had suffered a dizzy spell and fell into the water.

No one saw the old lady fall and the family are of the opinion that she had gone over to see a barn which her son Frank, with whom she lived, was building. She evidently suffered a fainting spell and fell into the water.

It was revealed that three days prior to the fatality deceased's grandson fell into the water at about the same spot and the mother had luckily happened to be looking out the kitchen window when she saw him disappear off the bank. She rushed out and walked into water up to her neck before catching hold of the youngster and pulling him to safety.

Deceased was born at Mirecav, Czechoslovakia. She was married there and in 1914 with her family came to join her husband in Coleman, he having arrived three years earlier. The husband died in 1936. A son, Joe, was fatally injured in 1930.

Surviving are four sons, Frank, George, Charles and Edward, and a daughter Annie, of Kenora and ten grand-children. Also a sister, Mrs. Albert Krywolt, of Bellevue, and a brother, Anton Pondelick, of Blainmore.

Funeral was held at 10:30 this morning at Holy Ghost church, interment being made at the local Catholic cemetery.

Reason is as it were a light to lighten our steps and guide us through the journey of life.—Cicero.

School Dental Service Contract Not Re-Newed

Miss Mildred Higginbotham, Teachers' Resignation; Soldiers On Miners' Leave Still Tax Exempt.

A regular meeting of the school board was held this week-end. Present Chairman Evans, Trustees Holly MacNeill, Stigler and Vasek.

A favorable report was received from the high school inspectors regarding the high school, its equipment and staff.

A letter was received from the Department of Municipal Affairs making it clear that soldiers working in the mines on miners' leave were still exempt from taxation.

Miss Mildred Higginbotham tendered her resignation as a teacher of the local school staff. Her resignation was accepted with regret. Miss Higginbotham will teach at Calgary next term.

A letter was received from the guardians of Joanna Bielly informing the board that the girl had injured her nose at school and as a result had required the attention of local as well as Lethbridge doctors. A request for medical expenses was made. Before the board deals further with the request it will obtain more information about the accident.

Mrs. Henry France asked that she be placed on the substitute teachers' list. Request granted.

After many years the dental contract between Dr. Illille and the board has been terminated. $1,000 has been spent yearly by the board on dental service to the students.

DANGEROUSLY WOUNDED

The Journal was advised this week by Mrs. Ed. Leier, of Vancouver and formerly of Coleman, that her son Pte. William Leier had been reported dangerously wounded in action on June 6.

WEDDINGS

HALL-FISHER

At the United church manse on Friday, July 21, Pte. Stanley G. Hall and Fanny Fisher, both of Calgary, B.C., were united in holy wedlock. Rev. G. A. Kettys officiating. The bride was becomingly gowned in a street length suit of queen's blue sheer with matching hat and veil. She was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Fisher. Mrs. Hall, mother of the groom, was present to witness the ceremony.

HOUGHTON-DALGLEISH

A quiet double-ring wedding ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dalgleish at 2:30, Wednesday, July 12, when Dorothy Margaret Dalgleish and Ernest Alexander Houghton exchanged their wedding vows before Rev. J. M. Turk.

The bride is the elder daughter of Chas. Dalgleish and the late Mrs. Dalgleish, and the bridegroom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Houghton of Coleman, Alta.

The wedding march was played by Ross Dalgleish, accompanied by Ian Dalgleish on the violin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an aqua blue torso-length afternoon dress, with white accessories, and corsage of white carnations and sweet peas. A lovely heart-shaped locket was the gift of the groom.

Her attendants, Miss Louise Dalgleish, sister of the bride, and Miss Muriel McDermid, were attired in pink and rose.

The groom was supported by Santy G. Fuoco.

After a honeymoon at Lac Le Jeune, Mr. and Mrs. Houghton will make their home in Coleman, Alta.

WINS DEGREE

—Lethbridge Herald Engraving.

Son of Mr. Nick Kuryluk, of Vancouver, and formerly of Bellevue, graduated at Toronto University with the degree of Bachelor of Physical and Health Education. This is the second class in Canada that has graduated in this particular course. He is well known throughout the Crows' Nest Pass, being a former member of the Bellevue Bulldogs hockey club. Enlisted with Canada's Active Army.

Employment of Students

The Unemployment Insurance Commission has issued the following special order, which states that effective from July 1, 1944 employment of a full time enrolled student of a day school, college or university during any week, from Sunday to Saturday, in which his earnings from any one employer do not exceed $5.40 weekly, will not be considered Insurance Employment.

It is expected that the order will have the effect of placing in excepted employment the great majority of students as part time messengers by retail stores also pin boys in bowling alleys. This applies only to students whose earnings do not exceed the prescribed amount. When a student is expected by this order it will be necessary to obtain a certificate of exception from the Local NSS office or take any other action. Permits are required for all persons over 16 years of age.

The Independents met at Lundbreck on Tuesday evening for the purpose of nominating a candidate to contest the Pincher Creek-Crows' Nest constituency in the forthcoming provincial election.

The successful candidate proved to be R. R. Buchanan, well known rancher of the Pincher Creek district. He is the son of one of Pincher Creek's pioneer ranchers.

James Walker, provincial Independent leader, addressed the gathering and gave an outline of his party's platform. He was followed by his 19-year-old son, who gave an address based on the subject "youth in politics."

The candidate is now busy lining up his speaking engagements and will speak in Coleman within the next week.

Albert Yagos Passed Away Friday Afternoon

Came Here in December; Had Been Sickly Since December, 1941; Funeral Held on Sunday.

Albert Yagos, 66, Coleman old timer, passed away on Friday afternoon after an illness of several years during which time he was confined to bed.

Deceased was born in Poland and married in that country. He came to Canada with his family in 1909 and had worked as an employee of McGillivray Creek.

Surviving are his wife, four sons, one of them being in Poland, and three daughters.

He was a member of the local Polish Society. The funeral was held from the family residence on Sunday morning, services being conducted at Holy Ghost church with Rev. L. Sullivan officiating. Interment was made in Coleman Catholic cemetery.

Pallbearers were all members of the Polish society and included J. Yurasek, A. Sygutek, T. Yucube, M. Simla, J. Spievak, sr., and M. Dudy.

Relatives were present at the funeral from Lundbreck and Cowley.

Sheep Herder Found Dead At Sentinel

Death Due to Natural Causes; Had Been on Job Only a Month.

Robert Page, 65, Taber sheep herder, was found dead in bed at Sentinel early Tuesday morning by his co-worker. Death is said to have been due to natural causes.

Deceased had been in the employ of Leonard Green, Taber sheep rancher, and during the past month he and a young man had been herding approximately 2,000 sheep in the Sentinel district. It had been the custom for the young man to herd the sheep in the early morning hours and come back to camp about 7:30, at which time Mr. Page would have breakfast ready. Tuesday morning at 7:30, there was no sign of life at the camp and investigation revealed the old gentleman dead in bed.

Deceased originally came from Utah, and while still a youth settled with his parents at Maple Creek, Sask. In 1908 he homesteaded at Taber, where he later married a Taber girl, Miss Katie Fallon. She predeceased him 12 years ago.

He had made it a practice to winter at the Pacific coast with a sister, coming back to the prairie in the spring and summer.

Funeral arrangements had not been determined Tuesday evening pending word from the sister and a brother, both residents of British Columbia.

The Weather

THERE IS A WELL-KNOWN SAYING to the effect that everyone talks about the weather but no one does anything about it. It is true that no means have ever been discovered for regulating the weather, and it remains a constant hazard to the undertakings of men and nations. The people of Western Canada know too well the important part which weather plays in the production of crops and they know that, in many instances, it alone determines whether we are to have good or bad times. Many farmers have seen their crops, the results of months of labour, destroyed in a few minutes by the elements. The people of the West also know the ravages of drought, when prolonged lack of moisture changed the whole aspect of life in many prairie districts.

Has Effect On World Events

The weather can change the course of events for nations as well as for individuals, and it is always an important consideration in the carrying out of naval, military, and air operations. The successful evacuation of the British forces from Dunkirk could not have been accomplished had the weather been unfavourable. Four years later, the weather again determined, to a large extent, the success of the Allied landings in France on "D" Day. For it is considered to be the factor next in importance to enemy resistance, in amphibious warfare. General Eisenhower has become famous for his "weather luck", since the Allied landings in North Africa, Sicily and Italy were, all aided by favourable weather conditions. Subsequently, it has been reported, that abnormal moisture in France during the early summer considerably retarded the speed of the Allied advance.

Forecasts An Aid To Flying

Weather is also a factor of paramount importance in aviation, and this is one field in which its effects, to some degree, can be controlled. In recent years, weather bureaux have been set up in many parts of the world and it has been possible for flyers to receive detailed information regarding weather conditions over the routes they are to travel. Through this service many lives and much valuable equipment is saved each year. Canada has a highly efficient meteorological service and at present its activities are devoted largely to providing forecasts for aviation. The staff of this bureau has been increased to more than ten times its original size in the last seven years, and it is expected that the need for these expanded facilities will continue in the post-war period, when many of the main air routes of the world will be in the skies over the Dominion and the weather here will be a matter of widespread interest.

TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

WHOLESALE RECREATION

"Teen Clubs" are popping up all over the Canadian neighborhood as an answer to the demand for wholesome community recreational resorts. They are the counterpart of the "teen-age night clubs" which are being organized widely in the United States.

Young people themselves are taking the initiative, and in a number of instances, church halls or basements have offered accommodation for these "juvenile hangouts".

Teen Clubs are intended to overcome the situation of "Saturday night and no place to go"—except the less acceptable places. The clubs offer opportunities for chatter and jive, being equipped with gramophones or even juke boxes. The more advanced clubs go in for handicrafts, amateur drama, hobbies, photography and other interests. One of the largest and most successful in Canada is operated in association with a suburban church in Winnipeg. Adult supervision of an unobtrusive kind is offered until closing time at midnight.

A COSTLY PROJECT

Costliest engineering project in the world from the economic standpoint probably was a bridge built for a railroad in Australia. Only one train has passed over it in 55 years, although it cost $100,000. Authorities decided on another route, avoiding the bridge, after this initial run.

Lard Surplus

Nearly Ten Million Pounds Have Been Shipped To Russia

Shipments of nearly 10,000,000 pounds of Canadian lard have been made to Russia, relieving a surplus situation which had developed in the Dominion, it was learned.

The supplies are being forwarded under mutual aid arrangements, it was understood. Officials said that early this year the accumulation of lard supplies—a reflection of the heavy marketings of livestock—had posted a major problem.

On March 1, 1943, total lard holdings were 2,200,000 pounds. On Jan. 1 this had increased to 5,500,000 pounds, and then the total rose to 9,800,000 pounds on Feb. 1 and 15-800,000 on March 1.

Authorities sought export outlets for lard supplies but by April 11 the total was reported at more than 19,000,000 pounds.

Since then exports to Russia and limited shipments elsewhere has reduced the total "substantially", officials said.

They said that details of export shipments could not be given immediately for security reasons.

The accumulation of a lard surplus caused anxiety because the storage space was urgently required for other purposes and there was fear a decline in lard values might result in a weakening of hog prices.

Flying Bomb Inventor

Austrian Professor Said To Be The Man Who Had The Idea

The man mainly responsible for the development of the "robot bomb" is an Austrian professor, Herman Oberth. Inconspicuous except for a small moustache.

Now in his 50's, Oberth was once the sound-and-scientific effects man in charge of the use of fireworks and explosives for UFA films. Reportedly an anti-Nazi at one time, he has been working on flying bombs and rocket machines for the past seven years, under special orders from Hitler and Goering.

Two years before the war, Oberth called on Gen. Kesselring with a mass of blueprints and models. Kesselring, after some tests, submitted a report to Goering, with the result that Oberth was given the run of the Wehrmacht's scientific laboratories and a special panel of Nazi research workers, radio men, aeronautical engineers, and inventors were put at his disposal as consultants. Shortly thereafter European scientific circles began to hear of new experiments in the Oberth catapult-plane technique.—Newsweek Magazine.

Canadian Bacon

Heavy Purchases Are Made For Shipments To Britain

Canadian Meat Board purchases of bacon for the United Kingdom to July 1 totalled 464,000,000 pounds, although the total minimum commitment for the calendar year is only 500,000,000 pounds, it was learned.

The United Kingdom is taking all the bacon which can be made available by Canada. Under a two-year agreement Canada agreed to supply a minimum of 500,000,000 pounds in the years 1944 and 1945, but assured that every effort would be made to provide additional quantities.

Because of the enormous deliveries of hogs to market in every province, it now appears possible that the minimum requirements of the two years may be met in one, which would mean the purchase of 900,000,000 pounds of bacon for the United Kingdom in 1944.

As things stand it looks very much as though we will be able to buy 800,000,000 pounds at least," one authority said.

Canadian bacon production to the end of 1943 had been described as "starting", but officials said it now appeared certain that even better records would be made in shipments this year.

An All-Round Shooter

Army Photographer Handled Machine Gun As Well As Camera

The army spirit captures the imagination and the enthusiasm of all classes of recruits who volunteer for service in any capacity—and even the army photographers are no immune.

That was an interesting story which came out of Italy, regarding the Army photographer who captured 19 Nazis. Allied troops were making contact with French forces driving up below Valmontone. The photographer was on the spot to get hot pictures, when he ran across the Nazis in a house along the highway. He killed two with a machine gun and captured the other 19.

It is not said whether he took their pictures; but if he can "shoot" with a camera as well as he shoots with a machine gun, he probably did both jobs in the same tour of duty.

What Might Happen

Scientists Say That The Sun May Explode Like Other Astral Bodies

Here's something else for chronic worriers to worry about. The American Astronomical Society has received from Dr. D. B. McLaughlin computations to show what would happen if the sun became a nova. (Any star may become a nova by exploding, and such explosions are fairly frequent.) According to Dr. McLaughlin, if the sun exploded it would shine about 100,000 times more brightly than usual for about ten days. This would create so much heat that the earth's surface would boil and rocks would turn to liquid and vapor. Optimists will be glad to note, however, that this would affect rocks only to a depth of about seven miles.—Brantford Expositor.

Mail For The Forces Overseas

In Normandy, in Italy, wherever they may be, Canadian forces overseas get mail from home quicker because of the big Lancaster transports operated by Trans-Canada Air Lines in the Canadian Government's trans-Atlantic service. And from the fronts mail comes quicker to the folk at home.

More than 50,000,000 letters have been carried in 95 crossings of the Atlantic—less than a year's operation. With four aircraft in service, three round trips are now made each week between Montreal and the United Kingdom. Flights are made direct, without intermediate stops, and the distance, 3,100 statute miles, has been covered in little more than eleven hours.

In the big noses of the Lancasters, as much as 8,000 pounds of mail may be carried. Parts and equipment of importance to the war effort are carried as freight. No fare-paying passengers are transported, but official passengers on urgent war business are sometimes carried.

Story Of A Glider

Got Turned Around And Went In The Wrong Direction

One of the amusing incidents of D-Day was staged on the station of Group Captain "Jamie" Rankine, D.S.O. and Bar, D.F.C. and Bar, the famous Battle of Britain pilot.

A big glider, filled with troops, was being towed across to France. In mid-Channel and in pitch darkness the tow rope broke.

The glider, involuntarily, made what is known as a "reciprocal turn", and continued under its own impetus. Soon it crossed the English coast again and made a neat landing.

What followed was told to me by an R.A.F. Flying Control sergeant who had dashed out to the runway to investigate.

"Before I could reach the glider out sprang several excited men, faces blackened, armed to the teeth and pointing their Tommy guns at me. They completely surrounded me, yelling 'Achtung! Achtung! You (so-and-so)!' at the top of their voices. 'And where the hell do you think you are?' I yelled back.

"Blimey, mates!" said one of them, "this blimey speaks English as well as I do. What part of France is this, chum?"—London Express.

Big Achievement

Hitler's Pledge For Retaliation Against The Allies

A big achievement of the German flying bomb offensive has been that it has saved the Nazi regime—at least temporarily—from an internal crisis of the utmost gravity, according to reports from Germany.

The situation is frankly stated in the latest issue of Das Schwarze Korps, mouthpiece of the Elite Corps.

In an article discussing aspects of internal morale during months of waiting for fulfillment of Hitler's pledge of retaliation for Allied destruction of German cities, the publication declares this pledge involved for the Nazis "a question of prestige and a test of strength of the highest order."

A failure to launch the promised retaliation, Das Schwarze Korps adds, would have been catastrophic, for the Nazi regime would "have lost a good share of its standing—above all among its own people."

Despite the success claimed for the weapon, the paper lays the groundwork for possible later disillusionment and warns against being influenced by those "to whom success won't be swift enough and the results insufficiently impressive."

Fashions In Songs

Those Germany Marched To Are Now Out Of Date

In 1940 the Germans had a marching song. It was "We March Against England." But that song grew a bit out of date.

So they brought out a new one called "Die Wacht Am Kanal" (The Watch on the Channel).

Now since the Allies have been kicking sand from the beaches of Cherbourg into the gears of the German war machine, the Germans will have to change their tune again.

A revival of "The Watch on the Rhine" might be more appropriate—but not for long.

The very fruit of the gospel is aspiration. It is to the heart what spring is to the earth, making every root, and bud, and bough desire to be more.—H. W. Beecher.

What grander ambition is there than to maintain in yourselves what Jesus loved, and to know that your example, more than words, makes morals for mankind!—Mary Baker Eddy.

Chapter Of Horrors

Huns Massacre Many Women And Children In Reprisal

Cold-blooded massacres of virtually the entire populations of the Greek village of Distomo and the French village of Oradour sur Glane, and burning of both towns by vengeance-mad German soldiers were reported in the accounts reaching New York.

The Greek puppet government announced the Distomo slaughter, in which 1,000 persons died, saying it occurred on June 10, the second anniversary of the massacre and destruction of Lidice in Czechoslovakia.

The story of the French village, 12 miles northwest of Limoges in Central France, came from the BBC, which said 1,100 out of a population of 1,200 were slain.

The Greek puppet communique, a copy of which was received recently in Izmir (Smyrna), Turkey, said the populace was shot and the town razed in reprisal for the deaths of 30 German soldiers in a fight with Greek Eam and Andartis guerrillas the previous day.

At Lidice, which the Germans themselves announced was destroyed in reprisal for the assassination of Reinhard Heydrich, "protector" of Bohemia-Moravia, the men were killed and the women and children carried away.

But at Distomo, according to information received among Greeks in Izmir, men, women and babies were slaughtered impersonally.

This account said that after the guerrilla battle on June 9, German SS (Elite Guard) troops on the afternoon of June 10 surrounded Distomo, herded all inhabitants into the public square, and there machine-gunned them.

Then, the account said, German troops walked among the massed corpses, firing pistol bullets into the head of every body that twitched, and trampling the life out of any infants who had been shielded by their mothers' bodies. Then they burned the village down over its dead.

Representatives of the Red Cross were not allowed near the spot until June 14, the report said, and then they found only a few half-mad children who had hidden in the woods.

The BBC account of the French village, recorded in New York by CBS, said:

"The Germans demanded the surrender of patriots who had killed four German soldiers, and when there was no response, prepared to kill 50 hostages."

"The patriots replied with another attack on the Germans, who destroyed the entire village."

"People who took refuge in the village church were locked in and burned alive. Only 100 of the 1,200 inhabitants remain alive in the ruins of their homes."

Funeral services were held for the victims in the cathedral at Limoges, it said, and there city police found several bombs which were believed to have been planted by the Vichy militia.

Date and other circumstances of the French massacre were not given, but the funeral was said to have occurred June 22.

POPULATION COUNTS

The Sault Daily Star says: The statement is frequently made that Soviet Russia has done a better job than Canada in developing the north. It is probably correct and the Dominion could learn much from Soviet accomplishments in that regard. But in making the comparison it should also be remembered that the Soviet Union is a nation of 180,000,000 people as against Canada's 12,000,000.

Although its civilization goes back 4,000 years, China is one of the youngest republics in the world.

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL TELLS CANADIANS THEY HAVE DONE FINE JOB IN NORMANDY

LONDON.—Prime Minister Churchill returned from a three-day tour of the liberated areas of Normandy, supreme headquarters announced.

He conferred with Gen. Montgomery, and visited Caen with him.

Mr. Churchill saw much of the British-Canadian-held zone, including scenes of the most recent fighting, and also inspected the port of Cherbourg.

He also inspected the beaches where men and supplies are landed, and stopped at several R.A.F. fields and addressed personnel.

After driving through Caen with General Montgomery and Lt. Gen. Dempsey, commander of the British 2nd Army, Mr. Churchill left this message with the British and Canadian troops. "The opening of the bridges was a grand thing. You've done a fine job. Good luck—and God bless you all." Presumably he referred to pontoon bridges flung across the Orne by Canadian engineers.

Troops cheered Mr. Churchill as he drove through wreckage-littered streets of Caen and across the Orne to Vaucelles, suburb the Canadians captured.

Mr. Churchill climbed onto the seat of Gen. Montgomery's car and looked across devastated Caen to the area where British and Canadian armor and infantry were slugging it out with the Germans.

He called for a map, and pointed his stick to curling white smoke marking the spot where a shell fell in the valley below.

Three military policemen in a siren-sounding jeep led the procession through a mile-long column of jeeps, ambulances, trucks, tanks and other vehicles.

The prime minister was driven through the ruins of La Villeneuve and on past the twisted steel hulks that were the hangars at Carpiquet, three miles west of Caen. Gen. Montgomery pointed out details of the airfield where Canadian troops had fought so bitterly.

Later Mr. Churchill stepped out of the car to have another look at Carpiquet. It seemed to interest him keenly and he talked about it animatedly with his aides.

BAN IS LIFTED

But Sale Of Hot Air Furnaces Must Be Controlled

OTTAWA.—The Prices Board announced that a temporary "freeze" on sales of hot air furnaces is being lifted, enabling homeowners and builders who hold certificates of essentiality to obtain new furnaces as soon as delivery can be arranged.

When the temporary "freeze" was announced June 20, it was explained that the action was taken because the supply could not meet the overall requirements for replacements and new buildings. The situation has not improved, the board warned, and close control of all sales must be continued.

CHEQUEZ LA FEMME
ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS.—Lieut. John C. Wilson, a Canadian tank captain who has fought in Normandy since D-day plus three, said in an interview that Allied forces were fired on by women snipers on some occasions.

THE JAPANESE CABINET HAS RESIGNED COLLECTIVELY IN THE FACE OF DISASTER

NEW YORK.—The government of Gen. Hideki Tojo resigned collectively as part of Japan's drastic overhauling of her political military commands in the face of mounting disaster, Tokyo announced, and Emperor Hirohito ordered Marquis Kido, home affairs minister, into an audience with a view to forming a new cabinet.

Kido was summoned July 18 (Japanese date), the same day Premier Tojo's cabinet tendered its resignation, a Domei dispatch said.

Tojo, who led Japan into war against Britain and the United States less than two months after his cabinet was formed in October, 1941, had been considered his nation's supreme war lord.

Following a switch in the Japanese naval command, however, he was himself removed as chief of the army general staff and subse-

FOR LAND UNITS

British War Cabinet Drafting Some Navy Men Into Army

LONDON.—The war cabinet has authorized the army to draft substantial numbers of Royal Navy personnel to replenish invasion-depleted land units, it was announced.

The first requisitions will be made upon shore naval stations and warships undergoing long repairs. The men will lose their naval identity and be absorbed into the ground forces.

Naval circles said navy casualties have been relatively light and that the navy is so well manned there are men to spare.

The Daily Mail commented that "as the bulk of the naval ratings are men who volunteered for the service the decision is not likely to be a highly popular one" but added that "it is calculated that when the Royal Navy takes its full place in the line of battle against Japan sufficient recruits will have been drawn to fill the gaps."

CANADIANS TRAIL

B.C. Man Only Winner At Athletic Meet Held In Rome

ROME.—Represented by an all-Canadian team, the 8th army trailed 11 service formations competing for Allied track and field championships in a great weekend athletic meet.

Sgt. Gene Bortolussi of Powell River, B.C., scored the only three points the 25 Canadians were able to scrape together for the 8th army when he was placed fourth in the 100 metres finals. A team made up principally of Fighting French athletes topped the lists.

The Canadians competed in the magnificent stadium built by Mussolini in the hope that one day an Olympic meet would be held there.

American Anti-Aircraft Gun Proves Ideal Dual Purpose Weapon

ROME.—An American 90-mm. anti-aircraft gun, which hurled explosive shells at terrific velocity, is being used against enemy troops in Italy with devastating effect, and has proved an ideal dual purpose weapon, the Allied command said.

This highly mobile weapon, which can be fired at distant targets in much the same fashion as a sniper's rifle, is an adequate answer to the Nazi's famed 88-mm. gun.

OVERSEAS MAIL

Nearly Eight Tons Arrived Recently From Canadian Fighting Men

OTTAWA.—The R.C.A.F. announced the recent arrival here of nearly eight tons of mail—approximately 750,000 letters—from Canadian fighting men overseas and said it plans to extend its Mediterranean post service to Rome and other frontline ports.

The announcement said the reason for the big load was that a large quantity of mail had been held up by the British censors pending completion of D-day landing operations in France.

Flying Bomb On Exhibit In London

London residents took down upon a full-size replica of a flying bomb shortly after it had been placed on exhibit at Dorland Hall in the British capital. Reports from abroad that the Nazi attacks with the robot weapons are still continuing despite the numerous preventive measures that have been taken by the British Air Ministry.

Awarded Victoria Cross

A proud and grateful British Empire has honored Major John Keefer Mahony, V.C., 33, former newspaper reporter of New Westminster, who led a company of his hometown regiment in establishing a bridgehead over the Melfa River, Italy, on May 24 last, and of holding it against repeated tank and infantry counter attacks and the withering fire of German 88mm self-propelled guns, mortars, machine guns and rifle fire. Awarded the Victoria Cross, for his resourcefulness and personal courage, he is the third Canadian to receive this honor in this war.

Eisenhower Talks It Over With Keller

GERMANY CONFRONTED WITH A MAJOR INTERNAL CRISIS IN REVOLT AGAINST NAZI REGIME

LONDON.—Adolf Hitler, slightly bruised and burned by a bomb explosion, declared that a group of German army officers failed in an attempt to assassinate him and prepare for a surrender "as in 1918," but he and other speakers in an unprecedented broadcast made it obvious that Germany confronted a major internal crisis if not a widespread revolt against his Nazi regime.

Thirteen of Hitler's personal military staff were injured in the explosion, and Hitler disclosed that one of them had died.

In a six minute address in which his voice ranged from cold anger to shaking frenzy, Hitler declared he was taking steps to exterminate the "usurpers."

A subsequent official German announcement said the man who had planted the bomb, Col. Count von Stauffenberg, had been shot and ring-leaders of the plot had been executed or "committed suicide." But Hitler, Reichsmarshal Goering and Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, who also spoke, made it clear that despite all their protestations the revolt was too extensive to put down in a night, if at all.

Goering, No. 2 Nazi, accused the plotters of issuing false orders to the troops and of setting up a new government on the false premise that Hitler was dead.

Hitler, Goering and Doenitz all stressed their theme that the armed forces, particularly the army, were not affected by what they called "mad generals," "former generals" and "a small clique of stupid officers."

But the very preventive measures they outlined indicated that they had at best scotched, not killed, the revolt.

The air force and navy were told to obey only a tiny handful of specified higher officers.

The secret German language radio station "Atlantique," of uncertain antecedents but professedly anti-Nazi, said in a broadcast recorded by the Christian Science Monitor that "revolution has burst forth in Germany" and that "part of the eastern army is deserting and returning from the front."

Hitler appointed Heinrich Himmler, chief of the dreaded Gestapo, to be commander-in-chief of the home front to exterminate all opposition "ruthlessly," and declared:

"I order that no military authority, no leader of any unit, no soldier in the field, is to obey any order emanating from these usurpers."

"I also order that it is everyone's duty to arrest—or, if they resist, to kill on sight—anyone issuing orders of handing on such orders."

Hitler went on the air ostensibly to reassure the German people of his health after it was officially announced that an attempt had been made to assassinate him with explodes, but his words held little comfort to a people fed of late on a bitter diet of defeats on three fronts.

Instead, he declared a fratricidal war on his internal enemies and disclosed the greatest internal weakness in his regime since he assumed power in 1933.

Reichsmarshal Goering, No. 2 Nazi, went on the air immediately after Hitler, declaring:

"A plot was made against our Fuehrer by a Col. Count von Stauffenberg, at the order of a miserable clique of former generals who were dismissed because of their cowardly and bad leadership. . . . These criminals try now, as we see, to spread the word of the service, declaring the navy would only 'accept orders from its own commander-in-chief and its own commanders,' and that 'to avoid being misled by false instructions, every traitor will be ruthlessly destroyed.'"

Goering was followed in turn by Admiral Karl Doenitz, chief of the waning German navy, who intimated that the revolt may have spread to his arm of the service, declaring the navy would only "accept orders from its own commander-in-chief and its own commanders," and that "to avoid being misled by false instructions, every traitor will be ruthlessly destroyed."

NO COAL FOR ITALY

Deliveries Stopped And Existing Stocks Being Moved To Germany

LONDON.—The Germans have not only stopped all coal deliveries to Italy but are taking steps to move existing coal stocks from north Italy to Germany, according to reports received here.

As industry in occupied Italy is dependent on German coal supplies since the liberation of Sardinia, this means the Germans have totally written off Italian industrial capacity as an asset.

It may also foreshadow preparations for an eventual German evacuation.

Evidence is also accumulating that industrial conditions in France are causing the Germans far greater concern than those in occupied Italy.

SEED OIL PLANT

Vegetable Processing Plant To Be Built In Moose Jaw

MOOSE JAW.—Work on the new vegetable seed oil processing plant is expected to start in Moose Jaw early in August, according to information released.

Priorities have been obtained for all the necessary machinery, through the co-operation of the Canadian Agricultural Supplies Board, the fats and oil controller and the American War Food Administration Board. Part of the equipment is obtainable in Canada, and part is obtainable only in the United States.

I. H. Coyne, Chicago, architect and engineer, has just completed his survey work for the new plant and work is expected to start shortly after Aug. 1.

CALLS FOR ACTION ON THE PREPARATION OF A UNIFORM CANADIAN HISTORY TEXTBOOK

OTTAWA.—The history of England and France—once stern enemies and now strong allies—offers a basis on which Canadians can reach greater unity, Senator Arthur Marcotte (P.C.-Saskatchewan) said in an address in the upper house.

Senator Marcotte spoke in support of a motion by Senator L. A. David calling for action by the proposed Dominion-provincial conference on the preparation of a uniform textbook of Canadian history which would be acceptable to all provinces.

He said that while the subject was one which should be discussed on an academic basis it had become the basis of heated arguments.

Senator Marcotte made no direct reference to an address June 21 in the same debate by Senator T. D. Bouchard (L.-Quebec) when Senator Bouchard said the Order of Jacques Cartier was fostering a movement for the establishment of an independent French state in Canada.

Senator Marcotte said, however, that in introducing the motion Senator David "did not expect the sensational force the discussion has created outside this chamber."

"Politics, and politics of a very base and degrading nature, have become mixed with this question of history teaching," said Senator Marcotte. "So much so that it is difficult today to discuss this resolution in a manner that will not start bitter controversies. The present election in the province of Quebec is another reason for the care we have to take not to pass more fuel to the present burning fires."

He said Lord Tweedsmuir, shortly before his death, had told him he was working on a Canadian history which would be acceptable to both English and French Canadians. Senator Marcotte said he believed the preparation of such a book was possible if the authors stuck to the truth.

"When I read history and I see the two mother countries of our Canada—England and France—fighting all over the world against each other for centuries while discovering, pioneering, developing new worlds to bring them civilization and Christianity; and then becoming united in a joint effort to save the world to that same civilization, to that same Christianity, and this for the second time in a quarter of a century, I am wondering why here the sons and descendants of those two great people cannot be more united," he said.

Haven't you ever talked over the back fence?

MAYBE you have a neighbour who doesn't know what it's all about when it comes to raising cucumbers. Or perhaps he hasn't a knack with roses. So you tell him what spray to get, or you give him a little lesson in pruning. And next thing you know he says: "I'm certainly sold on that advice you gave me."

And that's how progress comes about. A fellow comes along who knows more than you do about life insurance, for instance, and first thing you know you see a way to protect yourself and your wife and the kiddies, a plan you might never have thought of, yet it seems easy once you start.

If there were no salesmen, hundreds of thousands of people now insured would be without the security they enjoy. So many people put off till tomorrow what they should do today—so many neglect provision for the future. That is why the helpful neighbours who sell life insurance have become such great instruments in the promotion of thrift.

It is good citizenship to own LIFE INSURANCE

Soil Composition

Nature's Method For Mixing Proper Minerals To Promote Growth

Now that the vegetables (and weeds) are growing so rapidly in our Victory Gardens, your reporter became curious concerning the minerals which make up the soil. Upon enquiry at the Royal Ontario Museum, he learned that, while soil is made up of the commonest minerals, the ones which they play in promoting plant growth are not very well known. Good soil should contain some of the clay minerals, but plant growth is not luxuriant on china clay alone. The principal function of the clay is to absorb and hold moisture. It is known that certain mineral species (zeolites) absorb and give up some of the chemicals that are necessary for plant growth. Along with these minerals is a certain amount of decayed vegetable matter which serves as plant food and an absorbent of moisture. The Museum does not exhibit these minerals as they appear in the soil but many fine specimens of clay minerals—zeolites, quartz, and feldspar—are on display in its galleries. Your reporter became intrigued with thoughts of how Old Mother Nature produced these minerals, broke them into billions of particles and thoroughly mixed them together, a pinch of this and a dash of that, just the proper amount so that vegetables (and weeds) might grow.

Netherlands officials would not let him be accompanied by his wife who for five years has sailed aboard his ship as stewardess. Officials feared that the invasion operation might put too great a strain on her.

So, much to her regret, she had to be left behind, though she is qualified to take part in such operations. For she is the only Dutch woman who holds a merchant ship's gunner's licence and is as keen and effective a gunner as any man. After her final tests on a shore-based shooting range, authorities sent her flowers and a special letter of congratulation.

She has been in action before this. Once the ship picked up shipwrecked sailors while a fierce air battle raged overhead. During the engagement the captain's wife stood at the helm for more than two hours, disregarding falling bombs and shrapnel, keeping the ship on its course.

AN OLD BELIEF

Our ancestors of not so many years ago believed that one slept better if the head of the bed pointed due north, in order that the body might be lulled by the magnetic currents that were thought to flow from the North to the South Poles.

"Democracy At Work" For Airwomen

Around the council table at Princess Alice Barracks, Ottawa, representatives elected from among the 800 airwomen in residence, debate a measure before "the house." When passed by council and endorsed by the officer commanding, Flight Officer Marion Graham of Saskatoon, the measure will become "law." Patterned after the government of Canada, the system gives airwomen an opportunity to have a voice in the management of their own barracks. GIDEON'S FAITHFUL FEW Golden text: There is no restraint to the Lord to save by many or by few. 1 Samuel 14:6.

Lesson: Judges, Chapters 6, 7, 8.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 33:12-22.

Judges 7:4. And Jehovah said unto Gideon, The people are yet too many; bring them down unto the water, and I will try them for thee: and it shall be, that of whom I say unto thee, This shall go with thee, the same shall go with thee; and of whomsoever I say unto thee, This shall not go with thee, the same shall not go. 5 So he brought down the people unto the water; and Jehovah said unto Gideon, Every one that lapped of the water with his tongue, as a dog lappeth, him shalt thou set by himself; likewise every one that boweth down upon his knees to drink. 6 And the number of them that lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, was three hundred men; but all the rest of the people bowed down upon their knees to drink water. 7 And Jehovah said unto Gideon, By the three hundred men that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into thy hand; and let all the people go every man unto his place.

15 And it was so, when Gideon heard the telling of the dream, and the interpretation thereof, that he worshipped; and he returned into the camp of Israel, and said, Arise; for Jehovah hath delivered into your hand the host of Midian. 16 And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put into the hands of all of them trumpets, and empty pitchers, with torches within the pitchers. 17 And he said unto them, Look on me, and do likewise; and, behold, when I come to the outermost part of the camp, it shall be that, as I do, so shall ye do. 18 When I blow the trumpet, I and all that are with me, then blow ye the trumpets also on every side of all the camp, and say, For Jehovah and for Gideon. 19 So Gideon, and the hundred men that were with him, came unto the outermost part of the camp in the beginning of the middle watch, when they had but newly set the watch; and they blew the trumpets, and brake in pieces the pitchers that were in their hands. 20 And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the torches in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands wherewith to blow; and they cried, The sword of Jehovah and of Gideon. 21 And they stood every man in his place round about the camp; and all the host ran; and they shouted, and put them to flight.

A WISE MAN

"Have you any chicory?" asked a visitor to a country hotel.

"Yes, sir."

"How many packets?"

"Six."

"Bring them to me."

The maid brought them. "And that is really all you have?"

"Yes, sir."

"Good," replied the visitor. "Now will you make me a cup of coffee."

HOSPITAL SHIPS

Hospital ships, some of which are converted liners, are used in all phases of amphibious campaign to receive and treat the wounded and convey them back to port en route to hospitals.

Sight-Seeing In Berlin

Jokester Suggests Point Of Vantage From Which To View City

The latest joke on the Nazis heard in Spain concerns a meeting among an American, a Frenchman and a German.

The American boasted of the wonderful view from the Empire State Building in New York. The Frenchman, not to be outdone, spoke of seeing all of Paris from the Eiffel Tower. "That is nothing," said the German. "Anybody can see all of Berlin just by standing on a chair."

Each hair of a caribou's coat is a little quill filled with air. When swimming, the animal stands far out of the water, and even when shot does not sink.

For Use Of Troops

British War Office Is Expert On Nazi Uniforms

A small number of German uniforms are now being turned out by British manufacturers by order of the British War Office, according to British Information Services.

They are required as exhibits in "Know Your Enemy" intelligence courses in army units for the use of troops in France.

The uniforms are designed and made under the supervision of the War Office who, advised by experts on enemy types of Service clothing, give specifications to the manufacturers about the cut of the cloth for the various German regiments.

The next uniforms on the list will be Japanese.

WHAT IS THE PLURAL OF MOSQUITO, DYNAMO, GROUSE, SPECIES, BEAU, MERCY?

ANSWER: Mosquitoes, dynamos, grouse, species, beaux, mercies. FISH, being cold-blooded animals, usually have body temperatures approximately the same as that of the water in which they are swimming.

THE TUNA IS BELIEVED TO BE THE ONLY FISH HAVING A BODY TEMPERATURE WARMER THAN THAT OF THE SURROUNDING WATER.

The Way Home

American Doughboys Directed Back To Their Lines By A German Soldier

Three American doughboys driving in a jeep in the fluid battle area southeast of La Haye du Puits beyond the forest of Mont Castray strayed unwittingly into the enemy positions and were directed back to their own lines by a German soldier, said a captured German officer.

The story related by the captured officer was as follows:

The doughboys had lost their way. Seeing a soldier ahead, they asked for the nearest American position.

Then they saw the soldier was a German non-commissioned officer. The German was so surprised that he pointed the way. A German anti-tank gun crew a few yards away was equally surprised.

Before they could size up the situation, the jeep with its three occupants roared around a bend in the road and disappeared in the direction of the American lines.

The first of the commercial steam engines that operated early industrial plants were lubricated with melted bee tallow.

Enemy Boasting

What The Germans Thought Before The Invasion Commenced

Berlin on Feb. 29, said: "Germany wants the invasion of the Continent to take place as soon as possible. The German nation on the whole, and particularly German troops, feel just as much impatience for the opening of the invasion as the Allies themselves. The reason is that the Germans realize that the issue at stake is nothing less than the end of the war."

"The German people share the view taken by Goebbels, who recently stated that failure of the invasion would mean defeat of Russia. In fact, the whole of the German population sincerely believes that failure of the invasion would mean not only defeat of Russia, but also the defeat of all the Allied nations. There is no longer any guessing about selected landing places for the invasion. There is such confidence placed on German troops behind strongly fortified positions, and provided with excellent war material, that everybody is firmly convinced the troops trusted with the defence of the Continent will successfully repel the enemy attack."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Dude Sheriff

By TOM DOBSON

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Old Sheriff Hearty was hoping mad. Outside, the mid-morning Panhandle sun was boosting the temperature with its steady scorching smiles, but he didn't notice it; the redness of his broad leathery face was caused by a different fire—blazing righteous indignation. He flung the newspaper down and plumped into an office chair. From the floor the galling article leered up at him:

"With the conversion of the Circle Ranch into a dude farm," it said, "Smokestone becomes primarily a dude town instead of a cow town. As such it is fitting that certain changes be made. Among the first to conform should be the sheriff. It would increase the western atmosphere of the town considerably if he should replace his single shoulder-holstered gun with twin pearl-handled six-guns, carried in fancy leatherwork belts; he could then greet the incoming visitors effectively. An appropriate welcome speech could be worked out, possibly including an amusing anecdote of his experience in the 'Old West.' Another improvement should be . . .

"Danged meddling fools!" muttered Hearty. "Reckon they'd like me to tell about the time I shot an ear off Spider Lopez and then sent him, as ornery a coyote as ever rode the Panhandle, away to the state pen for twenty years, crying and swearing revenge with every breath he took. Only that wouldn't be good enough for them," he snorted. "They'd want me to shoot off both his ears!"

Abruptly he scooped the paper from the floor and stalked out. He'd tell that smart alecky editor a thing or two. Just outside the door he almost bumped into his quarry.

"Good morning, Old-Timer," greeted the youngster, and added, "That's your new name. Old-Timer! Picturesque hey?"

"Picturesque be hanged," the old man exploded. "Look here, you . . ."

"Uh-huh," the newspaper man interrupted, "I know just what you're going to say. You liked the write-up in the paper. And the reason you did is because we both want to see you re-elected sheriff when your term's up. Like to put my paper behind you. And I think I can, too, because I know you realize there's been a new deal around here; no more cattle ranches for this county, only dude farms. Of course the dude ranchers are going to want you to continue as sheriff just as long as you enter into the new spirit of things."

"But . . ."

"Let's step back into your office; I've brought along some things for you to try on."

When the newsman left half an hour later the sheriff sank once again into his comfortable armchair. A brace of shiny new pearl-handled pistols decorated his ample midsection, and his huge lips puckered out like those of a sulking schoolboy as he contemplated the railroad timetable before him.

When the first train of the afternoon rolled to a stop beside the tiny station platform he and his star deputy were on hand to greet it. Disembarking were as odd an assortment of tenderfoot as ever haunted a cowman's dreams. Every stage of cowboy dress was represented, from expensive Hollywood versions to levis and work shirts. One swarthy-faced little old man with long black hair even sported a берет.

"Fellow westerners," the sheriff began uneasily, "I, as sheriff of Smokestone, welcome you to one of the last of the towns of the 'Old West.' We have . . ." he fumbled with a piece of paper in his hand. " . . . we have perhaps one of the most picturesque heritages of the entire cattle country."

The little dried-up fellow in the берет was watching him closely now. Probably he was a professor of some kind—maybe a foreigner. "Those are fine guns you have there, Sheriff; may I see one?" he asked.

"Why certainly, pardner," the sheriff's good-natured voice boomed. "That gun is mighty like one of the best that ever belonged to a dude. Last year before Mother's Day, Canadian servicemen sent more than $11,000 worth of cables home, and that's a lot of love and good wishes at reduced cable rates. This Christmas they spent more than $13,000 for cables home, most of them addressed to mothers."

There was an excited ripple in the thrill-hungry crowd at this pronouncement.

"Then, Senor Sheriff, you will not be surprised that Lopez has come back to settle his account with you!" The words hissed from the little man's thin lips. The sheriff's startled gaze flashed up . . . and right into the muzzle of his own gun!

"Yes. It is I, Lopez," continued the other. "For twenty years I've waited for this day. Quick, your other gun, drop it on the platform!"

The sheriff moved forward. Awkwardly the little Mexican jerked up the gun. The crowd fanned backward. It was the break the old lawman wanted. Instantly, like the uncoiling streak of a lightning bolt, his tanned hand flicked forward. Smashed down on Lopez's gun hand. The pearl-handled weapon spun, and, over head, to land a dozen feet away. Quickly Hearty followed up. A heavy blow threw the bandit off balance and then the deputy was upon him, clamping handcuffs to his wrists.

After the deputy had taken Lopez away the dudes calmed down and boarded their ranch-bound bus. The sheriff finished his welcome speech, and when I captured Spider Lopez twenty years ago, I was forced to shoot off both his ears!"

He headed back for the jail, his old cheeks aglow with the satisfaction of a job well done. "Twenty years in that place must have made Lopez a mite stir-simple," he mumbled. "Just imagine him thinking I'd go and muss up them pretty new pearl-handled guns by putting bullets in 'em!"

German Naval Officer Says Hitler's Navy Has Been Sunk

Rear-Admiral Richard Gadow, retired German naval officer who is described as the principal spokesman for Hitler's navy, has effectively answered a question as to the whereabouts of his country's U-boats and heavy warships. "They are at the bottom of the sea," he stated.

The submarine arm was effectively defeated in 1943 "when technical defenses of the enemy put an end to our achievements." The admiral did not refer particularly to what had happened to the surface forces, but perhaps Germany never counted very much on them anyway.

So now that the German navy has been effectively disposed of, it is high time that a retired air marshal, with or without Hermann Goering's blessing, should tell us what has become of the Luftwaffe.—Montreal Gazette.

Sacrificed His Life

Indian Officer Saved Lives Of Comrades By Heroic Act

An Indian officer who flung himself on a mine that was about to explode in order to save the lives of six comrades is the first Indian to win the George Cross.

Subedar Subramanian, of the Madras Sappers and Miners, was in charge of a mine clearing company which had been ordered to search for a missing Jamadar who was believed to have walked into a mine-field near Migani, Italy. Subramanian was operating the mine detector. Realizing that someone had trodden on an anti-personnel mine, and that within four seconds the canister would be blown into the air and explode, he rushed without the slightest hesitation towards the mine and flung himself on the top of it, at the same time trying to knock his comrade aside. The force of the explosion was largely neutralized by the subedar's body and six lives were saved as a result. The subedar was killed.

Has Been Real Home

Beaver Club In London Means Much To Canadian Soldiers

The big, tough Canadian soldier who may have given his mother a good many headaches in his time, does a lot of thinking about that same little woman when he is over there, thousands of miles away from home. The Beaver club in London, just off Piccadilly, can prove that.

Last year before Mother's Day, Canadian servicemen sent more than $11,000 worth of cables home, and that's a lot of love and good wishes at reduced cable rates. This Christmas they spent more than $13,000 for cables home, most of them addressed to mothers.

There's something about the Beaver club that sets men thinking about home. The lounges are big and friendly and the men usually meet someone from their own home town. In the reading room there are newspapers from more than 80 Canadian towns and cities and no one who hasn't been overseas can know what a hometown paper means.

When the club celebrated its anniversary of its founding, the King and Queen came to call and to say that they knew what the big cheerful centre has meant to men away from home, since it opened its door Feb. 19, 1940. The institution, partially financed by Canadian Y.M.C.A., is supported and engineered by a board of Canadian directors in London.

VALUES GIFT

General Eisenhower ordered framed and put in his caravan headquarters a gift from four correspondents attached to him. It was purchased when they ducked into a print shop to dodge a flying bomb. It is a color print showing the British Army's use of flying rockets in 1930, 114 years ago.

Food For Britain

New Canadian Contribution To Supplies Of United Kingdom Has Been Announced

An immense new Canadian contribution to the food supplies of the United Kingdom was announced by Agriculture Minister Gardiner, who said Canada would ship a minimum 100,000,000 pounds of beef in 1944 and 1945 and as much additional supplies as were surplus in the dominion.

Already Canada is supplying the United Kingdom with food under two-year bacon, cheese and egg contracts. Mr. Gardiner estimated the beef shipments—which will be the equivalent of 250,000 cattle—might have a total value of $30,000,000.

Prices established under the contract will mean a constant floor throughout the year for producers' sales of cattle.

Red and blue brand beef will be bought for export to an agreed quantity by the Canadian meat board on the basis of 25 cents below their respective ceilings as established for zones throughout Canada under prices board regulations. If further supplies are offered, they will be bought at the rate of 50 cents below the ceiling.

Lower quality beef will be bought at established rates at points further under the ceiling.

The Minister said 53,000,000 pounds of beef already have been shipped under the agreement, and although the contract has just been signed, shipments made since late last fall are being counted in the total.

He said that the export shipments would not be sufficient to require a resumption of meat rationing in the dominion. Canada now has 10,000,000 cattle, and former shipments to the United States on the basis of about 200,000 head annually were suspended in 1942.

Top shipments of cattle to the United Kingdom in pre-war years amounted to about 40,000 head.

Plant In Montreal Is Now Making The Wonder Drug

The first building to be erected in the Dominion for the specific purpose of producing penicillin will be in full scale operation in the near future, officials announced in Montreal.

The plant, government owned but managed by Ayerst, McKenna and Harrison, Ltd., already is turning out the "wonder drug" but officials said it will not be operating at top production capacity for awhile, when a group of laboratories being erected on the outskirts of the city are fully completed.

Bombers Improved

Britain's Typhoon Carries Double Load Of Medium Bomber

R.A.F. Typhoon fighter-bombers now carry a 1,000-pound bomb under each wing—twice their former load and more than double that of the medium bombers Britain was using at the start of the war—the air ministry disclosed. After dropping its bombs the Typhoon can go in at 400 miles an hour with devastating fire from four 20-millimetre cannon.

Maquis Used By French Underground Were Corsican Bandits

The Maquis, the French underground fighting organization which is causing the Germans so much trouble in southern France took its name from the appellation bestowed upon Corsican bandits in Napoleon's time. The word (pronounced mack-ee) means undergrowth, particularly the thick brushwood that grows in Corsica and that furnished the bandits good hiding places.

Among the leaders of the Maquis are high officers of the French Army who refused to bow to Nazi domination as relayed through Petain's Vichy government.—New York Herald Tribune.

Tragedy Of Germany

Smiles And Laughter Regarded As Signs Of Weakness

In a recent article, the German-born author, Emil Ludwig, for many years an exile from Naziland, has this illuminating comment:

"If I were asked for a slogan for the victorious armies as they enter Berlin, it would be: 'Don't smile.' The victor is a lord—a lord who does not smile, but commands. A smiling man never has a following in Germany."

Therein lies the tragedy of Germany. In Germany, trained and nurtured on a doctrine of "blood and iron," fanatically devoted to the grim, cruel business of war, smiles and laughter are regarded as a sign of weakness—softness of heart and head!

Prime Minister Churchill has aptly described the Germans. "They are," he said, "either at your throat or at your feet." Swagging bullies and thugs in victory, cringing and whining in defeat.

Regarding themselves as the "master race" and as "lords to command all others," they have long stifled all humor and healthy laughter. In a country more concerned with living than in looting and killing their neighbors, a motley group of upstarts like Hitler and his gang would have been ridiculed out of existence long before they had a chance to come to power.—Halifax Herald.
